

Business Astrocoaching

How to reach your goals

The sad fact is that men are poor because they didn't decide to be rich".
Brian Tracy

In this uncertain economical times it is to your advantage to have as many diagnostic tools as possible.

Most of your life is spent working to make a living.

This is true if you own your own business or if you are an employee in a company. Most people work hard for a little money doing jobs they don't like. By the end of the day they return to their homes and families exhausted and depressed.

When you do what you love for a living it is more like playing than working. Life is a series of peak performances. You feel alive and you move people and money. Discovering your business genius can lead you in the direction of a more rewarding career.

As a business coach and astrologist I can help you find the strength and talents that are uniquely yours. In my class Business AstroCoaching, I combine the ancient teaching tool of astrology and the laser accuracy of high performance coaching to assist you to discover how to turn your passion into your profession.

In this class you will learn:

How your astrological chart can direct you to your true nature.

The role you are best suited for in business... Manager, Visionary or Marketer?

Are you a leader? What kind of leader are you?

How to build a team and who best to recruit for your team.

Communication skills that inspire others to greatness and build trust and respect.

You can start creating a life that brings you more vitality and income.
